

SESSION 03

Breaking the Blocks

Unit 1 · Foundations of Creativity and Innovation

120 minutes · studio · COs 109.1, 109.2

THE ONE IDEA

Every business runs on assumptions nobody has questioned in years. Your job is to find one and turn it upside down.

WHY IT MATTERS

1

Assumptions are invisible from inside

The owner cannot see them because they are the water. You can, because you arrived last week.

2

Reversal, not criticism

'Customers want low prices' becomes 'what if they wanted high prices?' — you are not saying the owner is wrong, you are testing whether the rule is load-bearing.

WHAT TO DO WITH IT

3 Most reversals fail, and that is fine

Nine will be nonsense. The tenth reorganises the business.

4 The one that scares you is the signal

If a reversal makes you uncomfortable, it is touching something real.

TODAY YOU WILL

List ten things your anchor's owner believes must be true. Then turn each one upside down.

TO CLOSE

Pitch

Three minutes. The person, the stuck, the idea, the picture, the ask.

Critique

I like... / I wish... / What if... — the idea, never the person.

Idea log

One page. Silent. Box 4 is the one you read again in week 15.
